ScotiaMcLeod Direct Investing to use Neutron's Stock-Trak

Online Brokerage Simulation Platform to Benefit Customers, Employees

Neutron Enterprises Inc. ("Neutron") (OTCBB: NTRN) and ScotiaMcLeod Direct Investing (SMDI), the online brokerage unit of Scotiabank, announced today that SMDI will use Neutron's wholly-owned subsidiary Stock-Trak to develop and enhance its educational simulation offerings to current and potential customers and employees. SMDI will also co-sponsor a college and university stock market simulation program, open to all college and university students across Canada.

Stock-Trak has been the leader in online portfolio simulations since 1990. Under the agreement with SMDI, Stock-Trak will develop several customized investment simulations for SMDI that expand on a simulation engine that Stock-Trak developed for SMDI in 2006, which was used as part of its employee education program. The new version is specifically designed to increase employee knowledge and familiarity with SMDI's features and customer benefits.

"These new programs, tailor-made to meet the needs of our employees and customers will enable SMDI to continue to enhance its online brokerage products and services," said Cathy Welling, Managing Director, SMDI. We have worked with Stock-Trak in the past, and have been very pleased with their platform and their service.

"We are also very pleased to co-sponsor Stock-Trak's 2007-2008 college and university stock market simulation program," said Ms. Welling. "At Scotiabank we believe very strongly in the value of educational programs and support a wide range of academic initiatives. This simulation gives students risk-free hands-on insight and experience with online investing."

"We are pleased that ScotiaMcLeod Direct Investing has selected Neutron and Stock-Trak for these projects," said Rory Olson, Neutron's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. "Universities and many other educational institutions have seen the value created by our proprietary stock market simulation tools. We believe that SMDI's customers will benefit from the ability to simulate trading activity prior to actual participation in the stock market, which will enhance the customer experience."
